Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: The rejection of claims 6-13 under USC 103 (a) as being unpatentable over WO 97/131,152 in view of Kessler et al and Burbacea is maintained because the protein fraction from platelet having a pI above about 6.5 or about 6.5 to about 9.5 in the claimed method of preparing reagent for use in diagnosis of schizophrenia is no different than the protein isolated from platelets having a pI between 7 and 9 taught by the WO 97/131,152 (See page 12 line 20-21 of WO 97/131,152). Further, Burbacea et al teach the use of delayed type hypersensitivity reaction (DTH) to a protein such as neuroproteins in schizophrenic subject for diagnosing the likelihood of being schizophrenic. Applicant will file evidences to show that said protein from platelet in the claimed method is different than proteins taught by the WO 97/131,152 and Burbacea et al.
